

Week 8 Capstone: Executive Summary

Business problem

This capstone combines three independent business views: sales performance, customer retention, and property pricing. The purpose is to identify measurable opportunities and turn them into practical actions for a management team.

Key findings

- Total sales: 12,365,048
- Total quantity sold: 478
- Top product: Laptop
- Top region: North
- Overall churn: 10.60%
- Top property location by mean price: City Center
- Area-price correlation: 0.796

Recommended priorities

1. Start an early-retention program for month-to-month customers and monitor churn weekly. 2. Protect Laptop availability and review North-region capacity because both lead sales performance. 3. Use property area and location as core inputs in pricing reviews.

Expected impact

A repeatable KPI process should improve visibility into churn risk, sales concentration, and price positioning. The recommendations are evidence-based priorities, not causal guarantees; each should be evaluated through a 30-, 60-, and 90-day measurement cycle.
